Doggie Mansions Executive Team

FOUNDER/TOP DOG: Donald Gorbach

Doggie Mansions' founder Donald Gorbach has more than 25 years experience selling luxury real estate in Connecticut and Palm Beach. A licensed real estate broker with the Corcoran Group Palm Beach who formerly owned his own real estate company in Connecticut, Gorbach is a dog-loving entrepreneur and the genius behind the idea that “luxury real estate really has gone to the dogs.” Originally from Westport, CT, Gorbach is a graduate of Vanderbilt University. As Doggie Mansions' Top Dog, Gorbach oversees daily operations of the growing company and continues to find new ways to bring his years of experience in luxury real estate to this exclusive niche market.

VICE PRESIDENT/CHIEF MARKETING OFFICER: Stacy Small

The founding editorial director of Elite Traveler Magazine and president of Elite Travel by Stacy, a luxury boutique travel firm, Stacy Small is an expert in luxury products who has built her business by catering to a discerning upscale clientele. A marketing whiz whose innovative “Trips for Cancer” campaign earned her the title of “National Woman of the Year 2006”, Small oversees all marketing, public relations, design and advertising efforts for Doggie Mansions. Originally from Rochester, NY, Small is a graduate of the Newhouse School of Communications at Syracuse University.

DOGGIE DESIGNER: Kari Roundy

Best-known for her whimsical design style and fun fresh take on décor, Kari Roundy, owner of Boca Raton-based interior designer firm ATMOSPHERES, is the Chief Doggie Designer of Doggie Mansions. Roundy works closely with the dog owners to customize the style of home they would like for their dogs...down to choosing the paint colors, flooring, and furnishings for their doggie's mansion. Originally from Austin, TX, Roundy grew up spending countless hours in her mom's design firm, and has trotted the globe picking up inspiration and ideas from visiting places like India, Singapore, Sri Lanka, and Thailand—and living in Mexico and New York City.

MASTER BUILDER: Alex Rossi

Doggie Mansions are hand-built by a team led by Alex Rossi, a talented artisan who has been building luxury homes in South Florida for more than 20 years. Rossi's attention to detail is unmatched. He builds each and every Doggie Mansion as though it were a multi-million dollar mansion! He oversees a team of veteran builders, painters, and electricians, and works closely with the Doggie Designer to create the exact look—inside and out—desired by owners and their dogs.
